

WOMEN IN BUSINESS

The NB Association of CBDCs offers services to women entrepreneurs thanks to the financial support of ACOA through the Women in Business Initiative (WBI).

There are five development officers who work specifically with women business owners in the community.

They provide one-on-one support to women living in both rural and urban areas. The development officers ensure that women business owners have the products and services they need to move their businesses forward.

The five development officers in New Brunswick help women business owners in their region to:

- Access expert business advice, information, mentorship and support
- Acquire information on financing
- Identify ways to enhance their innovation and export capacity
- Obtain training, professional development and networking opportunities

Women are the new face of entrepreneurship and are a thriving force in New Brunswick's economy.
